

chris wrote:

This has been the third time I visited the pool, and the third time I have been verbally assaulted and threatened. I just can't believe this group of so-called "docents". They are the ones who will help the sane realists get our seals moved.

Funny thing is, they would scream bloody murder if they were lions in a cage, or dancing elephants, for profit. Yet, they claim a revenue increase from the seals that's never been founded on facts. That exploitation of a protected animal, for profit.

Anyway, I'm taking a Louisville slugger with me next time.

C