When I visited the beach yesterday, the seal people (two of them) said I could not go on the beach. I walked past them and stayed close to the rocks away from the seals. When I tried to return up the stairs I was blocked by a tall white guy about 25 who stared me down, Who was that??

I was scared. The seal people s also told a lady with two little dogs she could not go on to beach, it was after 6pm. Why does the city allow these people to intimidate the public.??? I was stared down and followed to my car by an older lady. There were at least three people intimidating the public. Get them outa here!

Thanks

Best Wishes
