

Proposal 2 - Management of Children's Pool - Effective Planning

Representatives of the dive clubs in San Diego share a concern over the future of Children's Pool. Divers are happy to have the seal colony there, but see unintended consequences without judicious steps taken. We would propose the City craft a long range plan to administer that public park to preclude new liability, contention or expense.

Our proposal requests a total City plan validated by a panel of scientists appointed by Scripps Institute of Oceanography working with California Department of Fish and Game Commission, NOAA law office, La Jolla Community Planning Association and the California Coastal Commission.

That panel can formulate ways to protect San Diego beaches for all its citizens and stay within all the terms of the amended trust and the Coastal Act and the State Constitution. Violating any one could start more protracted loss of City resources. We just got free of 5 years of litigation.

We further propose the City enforce its Public Right of Way codes (§127.0304(b)(1), §129.0802, §142.1206, §33.1406, §54.0105) pertaining to vendors' tables and signs drawing crowds in the public's right of way and creating an attractive nuisance, even obstructing public, emergency and handicapped access. The City has done an outstanding job of providing clear signage in the area. Other signs by special interest groups create confusion, cause contention and should be removed per City Codes. We urge the City to enforce its signage codes (Art 2, div 12 and Art 9, div 8; §121.0504; §121.0505) to eliminate private party or special interest group signs.

The San Diego Dive Community agrees with the City of San Diego's Joint Use policy at Children's Pool, as was formulated by a Children's Pool Technical Advisory Committee on July 29, 2003. This policy was cited repeatedly to defend the City against the O'Sullivan suit. (Superior Court, Aug 2006) It makes more sense than ever.
